About the practice

Studio Lotus' work is grounded on the principles of Conscious design, an approach that celebrates local resources, cultural influences, a keen attention to detail and an inclusive process. Our design process includes everyone, from the principals to the interns, fostering a culture centred on a high degree of individual ownership.

Our team of 100+ people come from varied backgrounds—architects, interior designers, engineers, even graphic and textile designers. Working in a highly collaborative setting, teams operate as mini-studios within the larger studio. Democracy and transparency are key to our design process. Together, we aim to craft benchmark solutions that address society's changing ways of living and working.

Role Description

Project Designer will be responsible for translating design briefs into compelling presentations, managing stakeholder relationships, and ensuring on-time delivery of both small and large-scale projects. Must be a custodian of organization culture & values, custodian of studio's systems and processes and thus become a contributor towards organization's higher performance.

Requirements – Skill-sets and Knowledge

- Ability to understand the design brief and build on the narrative/larger idea. Actively sketches to communicate ideas.
- Ability to compile and improve presentation methodology and present to clients when needed.
- Establishes relationships with vendors and works with them to resolve issues and achieve project outcomes.
- Manages the on-time delivery of multiple projects, delegates work, oversees design decisions, and ensures internal and external coordination for project closures.
- Builds consensus among internal stakeholders, removes bottlenecks, aligns actions for successful outcomes, and is responsible for all communication with clients and stakeholders.
- Plans effectively for 6-7 months, considering all stakeholders, to ensure project delivery through all stages. Can manage 50% site visits independently and integrate site inputs into planning. Can plan for 2-3 people in the short term to meet deliverables.
- Self-motivated, takes the lead, and inspires the team to perform effectively.
